RE: Oppose House Resolution 2 - 2018 Farm Bill

Dear California Members of the U.S. House of Representatives:

We are writing on behalf of California's anti-hunger and our broader anti-poverty community to express our concerns about the H.R. 2 - the 2018 Farm Bill passed out of the United States House of Representatives Committee on Agriculture on April 18, 2018.

Food insecurity and hunger is a significant issue threatening the health, wellbeing and future opportunities of Americans of all ages from urban and rural communities alike. USDA's Economic Research Service reports that 42 million individuals nationwide – 13 million of them children – experience food insecurity, including 12.8 percent of Californians. Many of these people turn to government and private programs to prevent hunger, but our local food pantries and congregate meal programs report they are unable to meet the need that already exists.

While this high incidence of hunger is disgraceful, it would be far worse were it not for the nation's profoundly successful and cost-effective Supplemental Nutrition Assistance Program \(SNAP\), known as CalFresh in California.

SNAP is not only not only effective at preventing hunger and some of the worst outcomes of poverty, it also strengthens communities and retailers who depend on shoppers paying with SNAP when their income falls short. In fact, every $1 billion in SNAP benefits redeemed generates $97 million in farm cash receipts, which translates into 950 farm jobs and \$32 million of income to farmers and hired farmworkers and an increase of 8,900-17,900 full-time equivalent jobs in the general economy. Making cuts to SNAP will result in fewer jobs, especially in communities like those throughout California that rely on farming and food production industries.

H.R. 2 would cut aid from working families with high childcare expenses. It would shorten the SNAP three-month time limit to one month and apply it to a larger group of people, including older adults and families with children. While it purports to cushion the work requirement by providing every out-of-work or underemployed SNAP recipient the ability to participate in workfare, or free work, programs to avoid sanctions, it only funds these programs with a budget so small that it wouldn't even pay for a monthly bus pass for participants. Simply put, H.R. 2, if enacted, would erect new red-tape barriers to providing vital food assistance for the nearly 4 million California SNAP recipients who need it most and who live in every California Congressional District.

We are asking California's Congressional Delegation to reject H.R. 2 and all amendments that would result in reduced food assistance to low-income Californians. Congress should be strengthening, not weakening, national anti-hunger programs.
